Happy New Year!

Happy 2026!

The new year is the perfect time to set goals and make changes that drive success. We know managing medical consumables, supply rooms, and costs while delivering quality care can be challenging.

With our market-leading online ordering platform, exceptional customer support, and commitment to your business goals, SSS Australia is the best partner for you to work with in 2026.

SSS Australia is pleased to welcome Glenn to our team, supporting our customers from Gold Coast, Toowoomba & Northern Rivers.

Glenn Hatton is a relationship-driven sales leader with deep experience across allied health and medical supplies. With a background in healthcare and a hands-on understanding of clinical environments, Glenn brings empathy, insight, and commercial acumen to every partnership.

We're delighted to announce the return of in-person wound care education with the launch of our newly refreshed Building Blocks education series, led by Dr Michelle Gibb. Replacing our previous Back to Basics program, this updated series is designed to deliver clear, practical, and evidence-based learning that supports confident decision-making at the point of care. Check the back page to see where we are going, and when!

2026 Influenza Season

As we look ahead to the 2026 flu season, there is an important shift underway in Australia's seasonal influenza vaccination strategy. The Australian Technical Advisory Group on Immunisation (ATAGI) and other health authorities have signalled a transition from quadrivalent influenza vaccines (QIV) to trivalent influenza vaccines (TIV). This transition follows the northern hemisphere implementing this change as of the 2024-2025 season.

Look to the back page of this flyer for more information on the QIV to TIV transition.
