Welcome to Edition 3!

System Upgrades, NAIDOC Week, Accreditation Standards, Infection Prevention Guide, and more!

Welcome to the third edition of Spotlight for 2026. We hope that wherever you are you are keeping warm as the temperature continues to drop.

Firstly, we would like to sincerely thank all of our customers for your patience while we undertook business system upgrades in May. We are pleased to report that we have returned to regular operational capacity.

There are a number of events coming up in Q3 that we're excited to highlight throughout this edition.

At the start of July is NAIDOC Week from the 5th to the 12th. This year is especially significant as we celebrate 50 years of Deadly, a milestone for such an important movement. Read more over the page.

The RACGP Sixth Edition Standards for General Practices are just around the corner and the updates to the IPC Guidelines have been a hot topic since they were announced. We have included helpful information on what these changes might mean for reprocessing in your practice. Turn to page 8.

In this edition as well we have produced an Infection Prevention Product Guide as the centrefold pullout. It features 7 ways you can manage Infection Control in your practice. We hope you find it helpful!

Lastly, we're turning 50! This October is our 50th anniversary in business and we're planning a number of fun ways to say thank you to customers new and old who have helped us get this far. We're excited to celebrate with you soon, and continue doing More For You for the next 50 years.

Tickets: $25

Includes:
• Lunch, morning tea, tea & coffee
• Digital certificate of attendance

NAIDOC WEEK

5-12 July

National NAIDOC Week celebrations are held across Australia in the first week of July each year (Sunday to Sunday), to celebrate and recognise the history, culture and achievements of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples.

NAIDOC Week is an opportunity for all Australians to learn about First Nations cultures and histories and participate in celebrations of the oldest, continuous living cultures on earth. You can support and get to know your local Aboriginal and/or Torres Strait Islander communities through activities and events held across the country.

50 Years of Deadly

For five decades, NAIDOC Week has celebrated the voices of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander communities: steadfast, unapologetic, and proud. Each year, its themes have called for truth, celebrated culture, honoured resistance, and reaffirmed identity.

"Fifty Years of Deadly" marks a significant milestone. It stands as a tribute to those who have built and sustained this movement: the Elders who stood firm, the organisers who created space, the artists who transformed resistance into expression, and the communities who continue to show up year after year.

This moment is about reflecting on the stories, marches, languages, art, and leadership that have shaped the journey. It recognises the strength required to reach this point and acknowledges the progress achieved not by chance, but through the determination of generations who refused to be silenced.

It is also a recognition of the present. Grounded in culture and strengthened by identity, Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people continue to lead change across every field from health and education to media, business, and the arts, telling their stories with authenticity, authority, and purpose.

SSS Australia is proud to partner with brands that celebrate Indigenous artistry, offering beautifully designed printed products that honour culture, storytelling, and the spirit of NAIDOC Week.

 Upcoming Sixth Edition of GP Standards

This edition maintains a strong focus on outcomes rather than prescribing specific processes. It gives general practices the flexibility to identify and implement systems that work in their own context, while maintaining a clear and robust foundation for safe, high-quality care.

Key updates include:

- environmental sustainability criteria, with simple and achievable steps for practices to reduce their environmental impact while meeting growing public health and community expectations
- dedicated criteria addressing artificial intelligence and supporting safe and responsible adoption of digital tools
- enhanced focus on privacy and confidentiality, particularly in the context of expanding digital health capabilities
- antimicrobial stewardship, including team and patient education to support appropriate prescribing
- a strengthened approach to continuous quality improvement, including the use of clinical data, patient feedback, and environmental initiatives.

RACGP Accreditation Reprocessing Guidelines

The updated IPC Guidelines clarify options for managing the reprocessing area, including dedicated vs shared spaces (and segregation), so that practices apply a risk assessment to their own context.

- Practices need to:
- Have a designated area for reprocessing reusable medical devices that is physically separated from treatment and administration areas
 - Establish a workflow pattern that prevents contamination of clean (pre-sterile and sterile) areas.

Ideally, the practice has a dedicated room for reprocessing. Shared spaces are acceptable provided physical methods or barriers are used to separate reprocessing activities. For example, locating patient care areas away from the sterilising area, or not processing equipment when patients are present. The methods used should be documented in the practice’s risk register, along with identified mitigants.

Mandatory washer-disinfector use

The IPC Guidelines require the use of a washer-disinfector for cleaning reusable medical devices. The use of automatic washer-disinfectors to clean reusable medical devices before sterilising represents best practice and aligns with the Australian Standard AS5369.

- Depending on the risk categorisation of the reusable medical device, the cleaning method can involve:
- The use of an ultrasonic cleaner followed by automated cleaning using a washer-disinfector
 - The use of a washer-disinfector that may incorporate an ultrasonic cycle
 - Manual cleaning, with subsequent use of the above.

Manual cleaning alone is not acceptable unless the device’s instructions for use specifically prohibit automated cleaning.

The IPC Guidelines also clarify that soaking devices is not acceptable.
